OFFICIAL.

NOTICE!

ON the 14th November, 1858, a negro man, calling himself NED, was committed to the Hancock County Jail, at Harrodsburg, Ky., as a runaway slave.
It would seem, from his possession, with the signatures torn off, that his name is SAM. The only thing upon the passes to indicate where he is from is a Lincoln county, without any State named.
The negro is 5 feet 9 inches high; weighs 180 lbs; color black; 5 scars on his back, as if made by the lash;
a scar on his right leg, which is 10 inches long, and brought a dog. Dress, 2 old jeans coats—one blue, the other a brown check; wool hat, coarse shoes, jeans pants and striped around the leg; plays pretty well on the fiddle.
The owner, if he comes forward, prove property, pay charges, and take him away, or otherwise he will be dealt with according to law.
J. M. OLDFHAM,
Jailer of Hancock County.

Notice.

Those indebted to the Yeoman Office for subscription, advertising, job work, &c., are informed that their accounts are made out ready for delivery. We are desirous of collecting up as promptly as possible, and we hope our patrons will be ready to assist us in doing so.

The correspondence in the Douglas and Fitch affair is giving rise, we think, to superfluous and improper discussion as to which of the parties had the advantage in the settlement. We cannot believe that an imputation of want of pluck should rest upon the Illinois Senator from anything contained in the correspondence. There is no doubt that Mr. Fitch pressed the advantages given him in Douglas's first response, and kept them to the end, yet we cannot see that the Senator from Illinois was bound by the code, or anything else, to bring the affair to a less peaceful arbitration. We find that a portion of the press entertain a different opinion. We quote some extracts selected by the Louisville Courier:

WHAT DOUGLAS'S FRIENDS SAY OF HIS COURAGE. A Washington correspondent of the New York Times, (Douglas paper), under date of January 25, says, with evident mortification:

"The correspondent between Fitch and Douglas, published in this morning's Union, has produced a painful impression amongst the friends of the latter gentleman. It is conceded that the cunning and headless country of the Indiana Senator has aggravated the original insult by placing Mr. Douglas in a position where he seems to accept the duelling code, and yet does not resent a gross affront with the determination which the case would warrant."

This is crushingly severe upon the Illinois Senator, when it is considered that it was penned by one of his own friends. Another correspondent of the New York Times, same date, says:

"The recent passage at words in the Senate has ended in a column of small print, such being the fashion of the day in these piping days of peace. In the words of an old play:

1st Second—Nobody's corrupt, and nobody lied.
2d Second—Nobody fought! Nobody died!"

But the Little Giant has lost caste with the fighting men, and he looks thoughtfully disturbed.

The special Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, also a Republican paper, says:

"The settlement of the Douglas and Fitch affair is regarded as involving a complete surrender on the part of Douglas. The correspondence admits of but one possible interpretation, and leaves him in a worse predicament than before."

Hon. James Guthrie for President.

This distinguished gentleman's claims for the nomination for the Presidency by the Charleston Convention, are just now being urged strongly by his friends in various portions of this State. We see that the Standard, a Democratic paper published at Bowling Green, has hoisted his name to the head of its columns for the Presidency in 1860, and has a very strong article presenting his claims for the nomination. Mr. Guthrie is justly regarded, not only in Kentucky, but throughout the United States, as one of our ablest and safest statesmen, and his nomination by the National Democratic Convention would be responded to by the people of his native State in a majority that would at least reach 25,000 of the ticket on which he ran.

The name of Hon. John C. Mason has been mentioned in connection with the appointment of a Governor for Jefferson Territory. He is the very man for such a position. There would be no such thing as failure in his administration of a territorial government. In the energy and ability requisite to success in such a trust he has no superior, and few equals among the public men of the nation.

ONE MORE NIGHT.—As will be seen by notice in another column, Dr. Stone will deliver his last lecture in this city, at the Capitol Hotel, to-night. All who have not yet heard him should avail themselves of this opportunity. Those who have, only need be told that he will lecture again, for very few go once who do not wish to go again.

Hon. John P. Fisk, Senator from the Kenton and Campbell district, and Maj. Robert Richardson, the Democratic nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction, are at present in this place, attending to professional business in the Court of Appeals.

"The Old Whigs," of Memphis, met on the 28th of January, to concert measures for setting up a revival in that venerable old party. We learn from the Avalanche that about fifteen were assembled.

The New Code of Practice—By R. H. Stanton.

This volume has just been issued from the press of Robert Clarke & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, clearly and handsomely printed in one octavo volume, neatly and substantially bound, and will be mailed by the publishers to any address, post paid, for $5.

It is needless to say to the legal profession in Kentucky that R. H. Stanton is regarded as one of the soundest and ablest lawyers in the State, and peculiarly fitted for the work which he has so skillfully performed in the preparation of this volume.

The book contains the Code of Practice, civil and criminal, as prepared by the commissioners; the amendments that have since been authorized; numerous forms adapted to the Code; notes of the decisions of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, published and unpublished, made since the adoption of the Code.

There are, furthermore, appended notes of the decisions of the higher Court of New York, upon sections which are common to the Codes of that State and Kentucky, which afford lawyers convenient reference to all the New York decisions elucidating those sections.

This volume, we think, must necessarily meet with an immense sale among lawyers, as well as among all officers whose duties require them to consult the Codes of Practice.

How to TAME HORSES.—Prof. W. H. Rarey, the great American horse tamer, and brother to the Rarey who has created so great an excitement in Europe, will deliver a free lecture at the court-house to-night on the subject of educating and taming the horse. Mr. Rarey will also form classes, to whom he will teach the art, and invites those having the wildest and most vicious horses to bring them to the livery stable of M. B. & W. J. Chinn, where he proposes to demonstrate the practical advantages of his system. Mr. R. is accompanied by Prof. R. Adams, who will also lecture on the mental philosophy of the horse, and the principles on which the Rarey system is based. Ladies are respectfully invited to attend the lecture.

PARAGUAY.—The latest news from South America, is that this country is making warlike preparations to resist the American expedition. It is reported that Buenos Ayres has entered into a secret treaty with the United States, among the principal clauses of which is the following:

Buenos Ayres is to serve the United States as a deposit in case of war with Paraguay; she will allow the troops of the United States a free transit, both by land and water, and she will lend her ally every aid in her power to conquer Paraguay. A Brazilian fleet was, at the latest advice, about to be dispatched from Rio Janeiro to the waters of Parana, to observe the movements of the United States fleet.

Although the winter thus far has been mild, we are still liable to have some cold weather before it is over; therefore, those who have not on hand a good supply of warm clothing had better call on Charles Getz, opposite the Mansion House. The season is so far advanced that he is anxious to get rid of the old stock to make room for the new, and will sell at almost any price. Go and see him.

The Washington correspondent of the Detroit Tribune writes that Major Cass, who has retired from the mission to Rome, has been attacked by paralysis, and has lost wholly or in part the use of his lower limbs. He has gone to a watering-place in Switzerland, famous for the effect of its waters on that disease.

From Washington.

We find the following items of interest to Kentuckians in the Washington correspondence of the Louisville Courier, under date of January, 27:

I stated in a previous letter that I had understood that one of the principal banking houses of the country was making arrangements to open an agency at the Pike's Peak gold mines, for the purpose of purchasing gold and carrying on a general banking and exchange business. The arrangements, I learn, have been completed, and E. H. Taylor, Jr., Esq., formerly of Lexington, Ky., has been tendered the general management of the establishment. From the universal excitement prevailing in regard to the mines, I think I have underestimated when I stated that probably fifty thousand persons would emigrate to them during the present season. From all the information I can gather, I do not think there will be less than one hundred thousand, and some believe there will be from two to three hundred thousand. The appointment of Maj. Mason, of Kentucky, as Governor, (which it is unanimously conceded will be made), will be at once recognized as the very best that could be made; and I have no doubt his appointment will cause thousands of Kentuckians to emigrate to the El Dorado of the West. A mistaken idea prevails as to the fertility and productiveness of the soil of the proposed Territory. I would state that, from all I can learn, it is a good agricultural country, and I therefore advise all who go to provide themselves with agricultural implements. The bill organizing the Territory was yesterday introduced into the House.

A large number of Kentuckians have been with us during the present week, among whom are Thos. B. Monroe, Jr., Esq., and Robt. J. Breckinridge, Jr., Esq., of Lexington; Capt. Jas. S. Jackson, of Hopkinsville; Col. T. T. Hawkins, of Louisville; Col. Carey Hawkins, of Madison; and J. H. Taylor, Jr., Esq., of Lexington. But while it is my pleasurable duty to perceive the advent of so many representatives of the chivalry of Kentucky, it becomes my duty also to record the departure of one of Kentucky's finest and most brilliant daughters. I allude to Mrs. H. R. C. Ke-ke of Harrodsburg. No one has occupied a more prominent or enviable position in Washington society, and the departure of no one could awaken more universal regret. A lady of high intellectual gifts and acquirements, a most brilliant conversationalist, and withal, most beautiful and accomplished, she was a favorite in the brilliant circle in which she moved.

May we not hope that this lost Pleiad in our firmament of fashion may again return. But if not—

"Like one who, kneeling to some beautiful star, Wish'd that from its glorious home afar
"Till send an answering glance our souls to bless!"

Robbery.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 31.—Adams express car was robbed, on Friday last, of about $40,000, somewhere between Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga. The money was mostly in five and ten dollar notes on the Georgia and South Carolina Banks. A reward of $5,000 is offered for the recovery of the money.

ARRIVAL OF MR. HAMLIN, OF JOHNSON COUNTY, DIRECT FROM PIKE'S PEAK.—Mr. Hamlin, a farmer living between Shawnee and Olathe, in Johnson county, has just returned from the gold mines. He is a man universally esteemed for his intelligence and integrity, and the most implicit reliance can be placed on his statements. We asked him many questions, all of which he answered frankly. The following is the substance of his story.

He went out in company with eight persons. They all found gold where they dug, in quantities varying from five to thirty cents the panful. One man got five dollars in one panful. They did not dig more than one and a half feet below the surface, and thence a time when the ground was partly covered with snow, and frozen very hard. Mr. H. says that a sober industrious man cannot fail to earn from five to twenty dollars per day. He secured a mill site on Cherry creek, with a water-fall of twenty feet, and came back to make arrangements for the comfort of his family, intending to return immediately, but his wife being unwell, his brother will go in his stead. Flour can be obtained from New Mexico at nine dollars per sack, while flour from the States can be had for fifteen dollars.

The Indians are not troublesome in the least. They are more quiet and orderly than many of the Shawnees and other Indians, and are willing to trade with any one.

Wyandotte (Kansas) Gazette, Jan. 22.

The Philadelphia Argus, in speaking of the late exhibition held in that city by the Franklin Institute, says:

"In no other exhibition, we are always extremely cautious, unless satisfied of the merits of the article. Among those exhibited, is the celebrated Holland Bitters. This medicine has been extensively introduced into every State in the Union, and into the Canadian Provinces, principally within the last two years. The exhibition shows testimonials in every language known in America, among which we notice one from the Hon. John M. Clayton, of Delaware."
